

David Ford Joins Hutchens, Senter & Britton

FAYETTEVILLE, WILMINGTON and RALEIGH, N.C., July 2006 – The Law Firm of Hutchens, Senter & Britton, P.A., a creditors' rights and civil litigation law firm based in North Carolina, announces that David R. Ford has joined the Firm as an associate. Ford's practice will be located in the Firm's Raleigh office where he will concentrate in the areas of foreclosure, real estate, both commercial and residential closings, and providing legal counsel to a wide range of clients. Ford received his law degree from the University of Mississippi School of Law in Oxford, Miss., and his undergraduate degree, cum laude, from the University of Memphis in Memphis, Tenn. He is a member of the North Carolina Bar Association, Real Property Section, and Wake County Bar Association. "David is a great addition to Hutchens, Senter & Britton," said Terry Hutchens, managing partner of Hutchens, Senter & Britton, P.A. "He has broad experience both on the lender and legal side of real estate transactions and will be a valuable asset to our clients and the Firm."
