

The N.C. Bar Association has announced that Rudolph G. "Rudy" Singleton Jr. has been inducted into the General Practice Hall of Fame.

To be eligible, lawyers must have practiced for 25 years and be members in good standing of the N.C. State Bar.

Singleton, a lawyer at Hutchens, Senter & Britton in Fayetteville, has participated in more than 40 appeals and has been an American Arbitration Association panel member since 1970 and a certified mediator since 1995. He has more than 50 years' experience in law. He is a graduate of Mars Hill Junior College, Wake Forest University and Wake Forest School of Law.
